2. Offers

Offers submitted by Bopp are non-binding (see sect. 3 below).

3. Conclusion of Contract

The contract between the Customer and Bopp shall take effect upon Customer's receipt of Bopp's written acknowledgement stating its acceptance of the order.

State-of-the-Art electronic signatures which conform to applicable laws shall be considered to be binding.

4. Order Cancellation

In the event that the Customer cancels an order prior to its completion the Customer shall be obliged to pay for the following:

5. Multiple-Delivery Contracts

Bopp may enter into a written arrangement which is directed to the delivery of ordered products in successive instalments during a certain predefined period of time. The Customer commits to request delivery of and pay all instalments by the end of such period. The following shall apply to instalments which - by the end of such period – the Customer has neither requested delivery nor made payment for:

- a) For goods which are produced based on Customer specific requirements and therefore non-reusable must be paid in full by the Customer. The disposal of unusable material is subject to the payment of a disposal fee.
- b) In the event that such goods are semi-finished products or otherwise reusable by Bopp, the price to be paid by the Customer shall be reduced in accordance with the degree of reusability.

- c) Upon the Customer's request Bopp may extend the predefined period of time. Storage costs during the extended period shall be borne by the Customer. Based on the complexity of the storage requirements such costs shall be between 3% and 6% (per year) of the product price. Storage costs are invoiced on a pro-rated basis.

6. Rules and Regulations Applicable in the Country of Destination

The Customer shall notify Bopp of rules and regulations applicable in the country of destination which may have an impact on the deliverables or services.

Bopp's deliverables and services shall only then comply with the applicable rules and regulations in the country of destination if such compliance has been expressly agreed upon.

7. Pricing / Terms of Payment

Only prices confirmed by Bopp in its order acknowledgement shall be binding. Unless otherwise agreed in writing the Customer shall bear all incidental costs in connection with the delivery of goods or performance of services by Bopp, including but not limited to shipping and handling, insurance, import, transit, export and other permits as well as any type of taxes (especially VAT), dues, fees and duties. The minimum invoice amount shall be CHF 500.00.

- 8.3 In the event that due dates for payments are not met or the contractually agreed securities are not provided in accordance with the terms of the contract Bopp – after having provided a short period of grace – shall be entitled to terminate the contract, and claim payment for all work done and materials processed up to such date (such claim may be set off against any advance payments made by the Customer). The same shall apply in the event that the Bopp – due to circumstances which occur after concluding the contract – is

- 9.3 Incoterms 2020 shall apply. The applicable code shall be specified in the order acknowledgement.

10. Excess and Short Deliveries

13. Warranty

In the event of any justified claim due to defects Bopp shall, in its sole discretion, either replace the deficient products at its cost and expense or credit the Customer's account with an amount equal to the price of the defect products. All other claims or warranties, and all liability for direct, indirect, incidental, consequential or other damages are excluded. The Customer shall indemnify and hold Bopp harmless regarding any such claims by third parties. Bopp does not warrant the suitability of the deliverables or services for the envisaged or any other purpose unless agreed in writing. The warranty hereunder shall apply for a period of one year beginning on the date of delivery at the agreed delivery destination.

This provision shall also apply to information disclosed in the forefront of the conclusion of the contract. This obligation shall continue to remain in effect after the fulfillment or termination of the contractual relationship.
